Eagles Zone 2 champions

ELK POINT'S KEHEW CONSTRUCTION GOLDEN EAGLES—won the final round of Provincial playoffs against Kistcoty to take the Zone 2 championship. The final goal count in the two game, total point series was Elk Point 11—Kistcoty 7. Both the Golden Eagles and Kistcoty will take part in the Provincial Pee Wee C Championship Tournament in Elk Point, March 17, 18 and 19. Congratulations to a great team!

Reform Party campaigners hold rally in Elk Point

With the Beaver River by-election race in the home stretch, Reform Party leader Preston Manning and candidate Deborah Grey addressed a packed crowd at Elk Point's Pioneer Circle Hall Friday night, expounding on the 'message' the party hopes to send to Ottawa on March 13.

Manning, who fears that 'people are getting politicked out' with the multiple elections, said that the fledgling party totalled 275,000 votes in 72 ridings in the November election, and has over 25,000 members, a little more than a year after its conception by 'people disillusioned by the three federal parties.'

The aims of the Reform Party are to push economic and constitutional reform and to give western Canada a voice in federal politics, Manning said. The new party hopes to eventually spread nation-wide, but 'we're working on the western end first,' and hoping to gain sufficient recognition to compete with the other national parties. 'The by-election could give us a start,' he added.

Federal spending and taxes are among the most important issues at stake in the by-election, with free trade passed by Parliament since the November election. A $320 billion national debt, which increases from $25 to $30 billion annually and takes 30 cents of every dollar spent to service it is of concern to all Canadians, Manning said, and the rumored value-added tax is another severe blow to the pocketbook. 'We need to tell Mr. Wilson we don't like this.'

Fairness in federal policies is another area of concern, Manning said, with the official languages 'increasingly divisive and unfair to unilingual Canadians.' Manning feels it is time to 'stop complaining and propose a constructive alternative,' such as asking Canadians what they feel would be a fair solution to the problem.

Constitutional changes 'to make Quebec feel more at home in Confederation' are the gist of the Meech Lake Accord, Manning noted, but no effort has been made 'to make the West feel at home,' such as the implementation of an elected, effective and equal Senate, which would give each of the western and Atlantic provinces the same number of senators as Ontario and Quebec.

Manning then introduced candidate Deborah Grey, a high school teacher from the Heinsburg area whom he said 'has done her homework on the western issues' and is ready to

Elk Point Chamber approves '89 budget

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce approved their 1989 budget in principle at their March 1 regular meeting, with several new projects and activities included in the planning for the balance of the year.

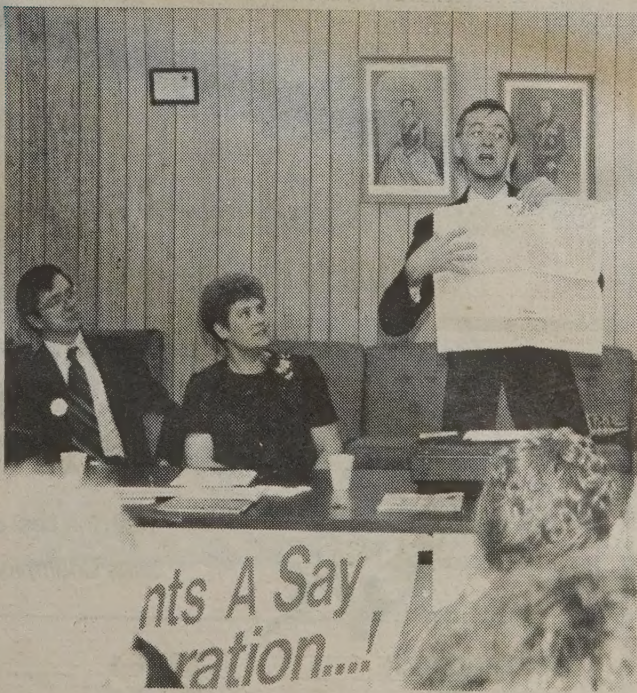

Production of postcards and some form of promotional brochure for tourists was included in the budget, as was an allocation which would permit Chamber delegates to attend such events as the Tourism Industry Association of Alberta conference and the Alberta Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting. Upkeep of the Tourist Booth was also taken into consideration. The Canada Day pancake breakfast was included in planning, as was a Farmers' Day event, but the Chamber will not sponsor a beerfest on the Canada Day weekend, as was done last year when the Chamber and Town celebrated major anniversaries.

The Chamber will again approach the Town for a $2000 operating grant.

Volunteers for the various Chamber committees were again solicited, but to date only the Public Relations Committee, with Dave Yake and Armand Houle, Tourism Committee, with Billie Milholland and Vicki Brooker, and Business Promotion Committee, with Millie Orr, have members. Additional members for those three, along with volunteers for the Economic Development, Community Improvement and Agriculture Committees, are still needed. If you are interested, please call Vicki at 724-4087, or come to the March 15 meeting.

Billie Milholland was named as the Chamber's delegate to the Tourism Industry Association of Alberta conference on tourism in Medicine Hat in early April.

Also on the subject of tourism, planning toward the production of postcards got underway, with Billie Milholland asked to find out prices and to ask for photographs from the general public which would be suitable for the postcards.

REFORM PARTY LEADER—Preston Manning expounds on the Meech Lake Accord while by-election candidate Deborah Grey and Beaver River Reform Party Association Vice President Dwayne Everitt listen closely.

Grey, Manning visit

tell Ottawa 'some of the things they don't want to hear.'

Ms. Grey reported a busy time on the campaign trail, including a visit to PC candidate Dave Broda's door in Redwater, 'and today he stopped at my place.' Looking back on the general election campaign in which she also took part, she thanked those who voted for her at that time for their support, and cheerfully told the others 'you've been given another chance.'

'I'm glad the Free Trade agreement went through,' Ms. Grey said, noting that while there could be some negative ramifications, she feels 'the west will come out on top.' While Parliament is non-committal regarding the inclusion of a sales tax in the April budget, Canadians are 'ripping mad' about the possibility, which would be a 'complete headache' for small businesses if they are forced to collect a tax on their sales and remit it to the government, she added.

Regarding the '$320 billion hole Mulroney dug us into,' Ms. Grey concedes that the growth of the national debt has been cut back from $32 to $29 billion per year, 'but that just means we're going broke slower...it's time to tell Brian Mulroney that we're not entirely happy' with the situation.

Ms. Grey also touched on the language situation, noting that there are many language minorities whose needs also must be recognized, along with those who speak English and French.

Leader and candidate then fielded questions ranging from agricultural policies to interest rates, immigration to federally-run day care, as the two-hour gathering, which was opened with musical entertainment by Debbielou Huskins, Cynthia and Nancy Adkins, came to an end.

The 1989 "Pee Wee C" Provincial Hockey Championship

Board chairman meets with auxiliary

By Irene Magnusson

It was a cold and blowy night, still a dozen dedicated members of the Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary arrived at

Elks out of provincials

Elk Point Elks travelled to Stettler Saturday for their second game of the two-game, total point Provincial playoff series against the Sabres, but suffered another single-point loss for an 8-6 defeat in the series.

Coach Ed Buck said the Elks were in the lead at one point in the game and 'had their chances,' but were unable to score the additional goals necessary to win.

Their Centennial League playoff series against Cold Lake Packers sat at one game apiece at press time, with an Elks win in Cold Lake last Thursday evening, and the third game of the series scheduled for last night in Elk Point.

Do you have some photographs of local activities and scenes that fit the old phrase, 'pretty as a postcard'?

The Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is planning a set of updated postcards which will be for sale at the Tourist Information Centre and at local businesses in time for the 1989 tourist season, and one of your photos could be featured.

Color photographs up to 5 inches by 7 inches in size are eligible, and must have the photographer's name, address and phone number on the back. All photos will be returned unharmed. Subjects which would be appropriate include local scenery, buildings, attractions, events such as Canada Day and points of interest to tourists.

Please mail your entries to Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, Box 639, Elk Point, or drop them off at the Lakeland Review office during business hours.

Deadline for entries is March 31, 1989.

Further Ed news

Spring is on the way, so now we can't use the weather as an excuse for not getting out and taking a Further Education course.

Upcoming courses are:

Watercolor Painting with Donna Dahmer as instructor is scheduled to begin April 11 at 7:00 p.m.. This is a 12 hour course running 2 hours per evening for 6 consecutive Tuesday evenings, for a cost of $12 per student. A list of supplies is available from the Further Education office.

Homemade Soups—the date of this course has been changed to Thursday, March 16, 1989. Monica King, BHEC, DHE, is the instructor, and $5 to $8 will cover the cost of materials.

We are still offering the following courses: Soap Making—April 15, Machine Quilting, Hand Quilting, Tree Pruning and Grafting of Fruit Trees. For more information, call 724-4101 on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday afternoons.

7:00 p.m., on the night of February 27th, to hear reports, to discuss, to plan.

Minutes were heard and dealt with, the Financial situation was viewed, both were accepted. The Canteen was carrying on about as usual, Violet McFadyen reported, souvenir spoons are on order, slippers of all sizes are still needed to replenish the shelf supply.

The required consent has not yet been received, regarding the proposed raffle. Sale of tickets will be accordingly delayed.

A report on the Regional Auxiliary Conference in St. Paul was made by Wasy Elashuk, who attended the February 16 gathering. A tour of the Hospital there was included in the day. The May Conference will be in Glendon - time not announced.

Volunteer hours served in support of the Elk Point Auxiliary were to have been turned in at this meeting, and most brought their tallies. However, if you were unable to attend, you can report your hours to Treasurer Bernie Kozicki, at 724-4136. These are in reference to the past year, March 1, 1988 to March 1, 1989.

Articles to use as tray favors for patients for both the St. Patrick's Day and Easter were displayed, admired and decided upon. Some members have been profuse with their crafts, making many articles and donating them.

It was noted that the March 27 meeting is the Annual meeting, and the nominating Committee will be searching for volunteers to fill the executive positions. Diana Anderson and Wasy Elashuk are the committee members.

Following the meeting, Diana Anderson, Director of Nursing, introduced the Elk Point Hospital Board Chairman, Tom Belsheim, who thanked the Auxiliary for their past works on behalf of the hospital and the patients. He then fielded questions from the members.

Questions ranged from the slow-motion coming of the long-promised Nursing Home Wing, now projected at a much-inflated cost over the early estimates. Other queries dealt on the need for another doctor in the area. Of smaller concern, yet of interest to the members were logo promised for the E.P. Hospital; the plaque hanging in the canteen showing works of the Auxiliary up to 1982 - and nothing after that, as if all effort ended there. This is a long promised acknowledgement of the Auxiliary's efforts.

Also questioned was the fact that other hospitals (such as St. Paul's) have acknowledgement that their canteen no longer sells tobacco supplies, while the Canteen at Elk Point has no such acknowledgement and public approval. Mr. Belsheim promised some inquiries will be made, into the Auxiliary's concerns. The meeting closed, with coffee and snacks as usual, graciously supplied by the kitchen staff.

Welcome, oilmen

As oil company personnel from far and wide converge on Elk Point this week for the 6th Annual Oilmen's Bonspiel, we look back on this event which has been a tremendous success each year, and predict that once again, it will be a weekend of good times and good curling for all involved.

This event started in the days when oil development in our area was just nicely getting underway, and has continued through boom times and slumps in the industry, as a time when the stress and problems of the work-a-day world were forgotten for a few days of much needed rest and relaxation in the company of one's colleagues.

Such events as the Oilmen's Bonspiel give people in the same field of endeavor a chance to get to know one another better and to take part in some friendly sporting competition together. It's a weekend for good fellowship and good times.

Have a great weekend, oilmen, and enjoy your visit to Elk Point.

Letter To The Editor

Library Project grant

Dear Mrs. Brooker:

The Northeast Library Project and not the Elk Point Public Library was the recipient of the $80,000 grant that was written up in the Elk Point Lakeland Review, published February 22, 1989.

The Northeast Library Project is a volunteer group working to improve public library service in the area (bounded on the north by Lac La Biche, the south by Wainwright, the east by Lloydminster and the west by Waskatenau and Vegreville) by establishing a library system. This grant was from the Department of Culture and Multiculturalism to help in reaching that goal.

I hope that confusion caused by the headline does not affect local support for the Elk Point Library. The level of local support they enjoy lets them offer high quality library service to the community.

Yours truly,
Maureen Hall, Chairman
Northeast Library System
Steering Committee

Eastend anniversary

Greetings from Eastend, Saskatchewan

We are 75 years old this year and we are going to celebrate!

On June 30, July 1 and 2, 1989 we are going to have a great time. On Friday you can dance to the Olde Tyme Fiddlers from Swift Current or on Saturday dance (or just listen) to the band Sensation from Kimberly, B.C.

Besides local talent we will have College 9 from Saskatoon, a super parade on Saturday, fashion shows and entertainment for all three days. Sunday there will be an Olde Fashioned picnic.

We'd love to hear from anyone that used to live in Eastend or area, or has friends or relatives here that would like to join us in our festivities.

THE SPACE SCIENCE CENTRE—in Edmonton, an 'outer space' building itself, has many exhibits and information on outer space as well as on our planet, well worth a visit when you are in the city.

Alberta Trails

Grandest of them all

By Irene Magnusson

I finally got up to the city to visit my kids, a short but much-enjoyed stay. One of the highlights of the Sunday I was there, was a visit to the Space Science Centre, planned by my son Charles.

This is a spectacular building, somewhere in the middle of Edmonton, gleaming white, except for the bold black sloping roof of a central circular tower. Long arms project from the sides, and the whole of the modernistic structure is surrounded by rolling well-manicured grounds.

Inside, we purchased our tickets to see the 'special,' a showing of the Grand Canyon, at one o'clock. We spent the ensuing half hour looking at various outer-space displays, all very interesting. At last the line-up formed, we got into it and before long we were in the theatre. Here the seats are built in a semi-circle, before the huge screen, each row well above the next, giving one the feeling of being quite 'inside' the screen, along with the action. These 'in it' - type films were shown a lot at EXPO '86.

I've seen many pictures of the Grand Canyon before, and like you, didn't pay much attention. It's just a big hole in the ground, over there in the U.S., where everything is outsize, over-grown and over-blown.

I had to feel differently as the show proceeded, there on that gigantic screen, where one floated over the canyons, leaped the peaks, swept low over the churning river, floundered in the spray with the dare-devil explorers, and gazed at the cliffs soaring far above.

Much of the photography had been done from a motorized glider, and the camera followed one along for a time, to show the contrast of man pitting his puny machine against this mammoth of nature, scary, yet surely the only way to really see the spectacle.

For all who have seen it, explored it, photographed it, the mighty gap remains the same, not to be touched by the hand of man. True, it is a tourist mecca, probably commercialized and cluttered around the entrances, still, it is unlikely the human inroads have changed the overall grandeur of this gigantic slash on the continent of North America.

At home, the memory still tickles, so I have combed my books for facts and figures, wondering if perhaps the camera had over-blown the whole thing. I am convinced it did not. From Reader's Digest's "Our Continent", an article by William J. Breed, says the Colorado Plateau is an area of 130,000 square miles, it lies 5,000 to 13,000 feet above sea level, and centres where Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico states meet. Fairly flat on top, very dry, it appears a desert.

This huge plateau is slashed by massive cracks, and trickling - or frantically bounding - at the bottom of these 'cracks' (canyons) are the rivers, chief of them being the Colorado, which runs through the slash of Grand Canyon, 250 miles long, 4 to 18 miles wide, in places 1 mile deep. The Colorado River is 1,750 miles in length, borders or cuts through seven states, these being Colorado, Utah Wyoming, Arizona, California, New Mexico and Nevada, then continues along for fifty miles or so in Mexico, before emptying into the Gulf of California. Laden and hindered by numerous dams, the mighty river is only a trickle by the time it reaches the sea, at times a dry bed.

The Grand Canyon is the longest in the world, and continues at great depth for fifty of its tortuous miles. The canyon itself is not considered to be very old, 300 million years or so, but the rock formations exposed by this mighty slash are very old, perhaps a billion years. These ages are determined by the rocks and sediment found there, the whole area being a scientist's dream, with no end to the discoveries. One thing they have yet to puzzle out is where did the washed-down dirt and rocks go, if indeed they were washed down? There appears to be no place down-stream where it has settled, yet if, as it appears, the Colorado River washed the giant gully in the rocks, it had to go somewhere. To date, a mystery.

The Grand Canyon is partly in the Grand Canyon National Monument, a park formed back in 1919, and some of it is called Marble Canyon. Other arms of the river pass through Cataract Canyon, Desolation Canyon, Dirty Devil, Monument Valley and other canyons, of varying depths, still none as spectacular as the granddaddy of them all, the Grand Canyon.

The canyon walls are layered with varying shades and types of granite and shale, around ten distinct eras identified. Vegetation also matches the terrain; there are said to be squirrels, one species lives on the South Rim, the other on the North Rim, and, while both are supported by the ponderosa pine, it doesn't grow in the bottom of the slash, so they never go down there, and therefore never meet.

Other wildlife of the canyons are deer, cougars, lizards, toads, eagles, sometimes bighorn sheep are seen. In all, 67 kinds of mammals, 240 variety of birds, 43 amphibians and reptiles, to say nothing of countless butterflies, make their livelihood down in the slash of the Grand Canyon.

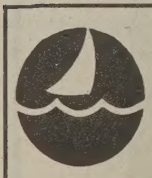

The white man discovered the Grand Canyon, in the fall of 1540, a Spanish explorer, Francisco Vasques Coronado getting first glimpse, although native Indians had occupied areas long before that. Three centuries later, around 1850, the U.S. Army sent in some explorers and in 1869 Major John W. Powell, with five others, made the whole fantastic trip down the Canyon's length, by boat, certainly a harrowing and dangerous journey. Others tried to scale the canyon's sides, in the early explorations, but were lost and not seen again.

In more recent years, mid-'60's, Colin Fletcher undertook to walk through out the length of the Grand Canyon, with help of a few supply caches and a back pack, and did so. He later wrote of his journey in "The Man Who Walked Through Time", published by Random House. His book is loaded with information, he tells of the beauty, grandeur, the insects, snakes and other wildlife, his feelings and impressions. It's a terrific read.

Today, with gliders, helicopters, non-sinkable rafts, radios, all the trappings of science and technology, the Grand Canyon probably has a few secrets, and can be safely entered and explored. White water rafting has become a daredevil sport, and many campsites, motels, etc., are available for the tourist's comfort.

Long ago inhabitants of the Canyon lived in caves, as have been found by explorers, their dwellers probably finding safety from enemies and shelter from storms among the granite walls.

There seems to be no limit to the fascinating facts one can find regarding this natural rift, the fact of its tremendous size the more awe-inspiring. I have never been there, yet I have a feeling that one day I will go. (With lots of film!) Then, of course, I will have first-hand information - and surely will be telling you about it.

What's news at the library?

Don't forget, the library is sponsoring an information workshop on 1988 Basic Personal Income Tax Preparation. This will be held on March 8, 1989 from 7:00-9:00 p.m.

The library has telephone directories for all of Alberta. If you require a telephone number from other points in Alberta, come in and look it up.

Storytime featured a puppet show "The Country Mouse and the City Mouse."

To help the aspiring writers, some of the new books in the library are:

Beginning Writer's Answer Book, The Writer's Digest Handbook of Short Story Writing, The 29 Most Common Writing Mistakes and How to Avoid Them, Writing to Inspire, Writing Young Adult Novels, How to Write a Book Proposal, Beyond Style,

A Beginner's Guide to Getting Published, How To Increase Your Word Power, Dare To Be A Writer, Writer's Guide To Research, Storycrafting, The Writer's Digest Guide To Manuscript Formats.

Six new music cassettes are: "If You Ain't Lovin' You Ain't Livin'" by George Strait, "Out of This World" by Europe, "Storms of Life" by Randy Travis, "Tell It To My Heart" by Taylor Dayne, "Duke O" by Steve Earle and the Exile and "Heavy Nova" by Robert Palmer.

New Books

"Grasslands and Tundra" by Time-Life is one of a series that examines the wonders of the planet earth, from its landforms, seas and atmosphere to its place in the cosmos. "A Brief History in Time" by Stephen

Hawkins is a popular work that explores for the first time the outer limits of our knowledge of astrophysics and the nature of time and the universe.

Who should receive the 1989 Annual Alberta Environment Awards?

This year marks the third annual celebration of this special program to recognize and honour Albertans who have made significant contributions to the quality of our environment.

Your nominations could be instrumental in helping us select the recipients of the 1989 Alberta Environment Awards.

In order to reflect the broad range of contributions to Alberta's environment, Awards may be presented in up to four categories:

- Individual citizen;
- Industry, Business or Government Agency;
- Education Institution or Education Organization;
- Volunteer Organization or Service Group;

The Committee also reserves the right to present a special award for a contribution not encompassed by the previous four categories.

Due to the large number of excellent nominations received in 1988, all nominees who did not receive awards will be reconsidered for 1989 awards. (If you submitted a nomination in 1988 you will be contacted to verify that you wish your nomination to stand for 1989.) New nominations are also welcomed.

To receive an award, an individual or group will have been instrumental in:

- increasing public awareness and understanding of an environmental problem or situation;
- identifying, reducing, solving or avoiding an environmental problem; or
- improving an aspect of Alberta's environment.

First consideration will be given to individuals or groups whose work directly affects Albertans, although national or international achievements by Albertans will be considered.

Nominations must be submitted by April 15, 1989.

Victor Chrapko

Revitalizing the northeast

By Diane Bellerive
Staff Writer

Having always been concerned about community involvement and doing his part to improve the community services and well being of neighbors and friends is the reason Victor Chrapko is running as candidate for the New Democrat Party in the March 20th provincial election.

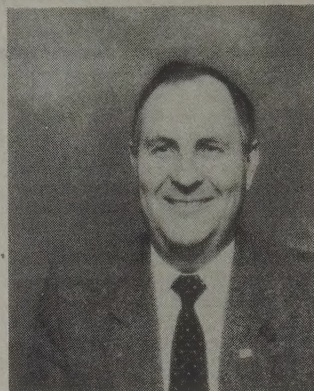

Victor is married to Elizabeth, and has four children, Evan, Tonia, Shane and Xina. Chrapko was born in St. Paul and raised in the Foisy area where he operates a 200 sow farrow-to-finish hog operation in conjunction with 2,000 acres of grain land and a herd of 100 cattle. His children are all grown and attending university or having completed university. His wife Elizabeth is a nurse with the North Eastern Health Unit. The Chrapkos own and operate their own insurance agency, VC Agencies, out of Brosseau. In the past, the family has been nominated for the Farm Family Award.

Chrapko is a member of the Two Hills County Council and is the most senior member of the Alberta Pork Producers Association. He was a member of the Junior Farmers of Alberta and now is a director of the Farmers Union.

In the early 1960's Chrapko organized a rural telephone system for his area. He was president of the organization before AGT took over the service.

In 1969 till 1974 he moved to Grand Cache, where he was a town councillor. He was also the charter President of the Chamber of Commerce and a charter Lions member. He has been very active in many of the groups and organizations in the Two Hills, St. Paul area.

The reason he chose to join the NDPs was because he found his philosophy quite parallel to the beliefs and policies of the NDP which believes in helping the little guy and giving them their share of resources. Chrapko believes that anybody should be able to blossom and go ahead with their lives not hampered by their ethnic or financial background.

Victor Chrapko

"My priority is to make sure social programs are dealt with fairly. And it's important that we have a lot of work, such as secondary industries in the area. This could provide work for the young people in our area who are forced to move elsewhere if they want to work." Chrapko said.

The debt load of every Alberta citizen concerns Chrapko. He states this is a serious concern, not only to the farm owners, but home owners, seniors, and people in the cities. He believes that the farm area will quickly become depopulated if this debt load is not turned around quickly. He believes that there is no way the young can pick up these debts and carry the load.

"Seniors should have programs which allow them to live out sunset years with pride and dignity." Chrapko said, when asked which program he would like to see added. He added that he could not understand why millions of dollars went to companies that could manage on their own more efficiently without government backing.

Chrapko encourages people to come out and talk to him and express their views and concerns. He is interested in people and knows that his party could revitalize the Northeast.

Drug awareness seminar

By Billie Milholland

Two concerned grandfathers were among the handful of interested people who attended the Drug Awareness Seminar hosted by Elk Point F.C.S.S. Monday, February 27, 1989. Their eager participation and sense of responsibility to the younger people in their lives, put to shame the parents and educators who didn't attend. "You're never too old to learn something," said one of them.

"Maybe the young people don't want to know these things now," said the other. "But I want to know what to say if they ever want to talk."

Although the crowd was small, it was enthusiastic. Marnie McCowan F.C.S.S. Director, welcomed everyone and started the evening rolling. The delightful cartoon film, "The Mountain," shown by Sharon Steinhauer of St. Paul AADAC had as much appeal for the seniors present as it did for the elementary students in the front row. It was generally agreed that anyone from kindergarten to retirement could enjoy and benefit from the film.

Doug Huskins of Elk Point R.C.M.P. reported that while the drug that creates the biggest problem in this area is still alcohol, there is a small amount of drug abuse of other substances as well. He advised parents to educate themselves about drugs and cautioned them against over reacting if they suspect that their children may be experimenting with drugs.

Both Sharon and Doug were pleased to report that the strong focus on substance abuse in the last few years is beginning to show positive results.

Lavinia Aubee, Social Services field student at the F.C.S.S. office, hosted the evening that she helped coordinate.

Library encourages would-be writers

By Irene Magnusson

If you are a would-be writer, or a writer-in-progress, the Elk Point Public Library could prove an interesting and profitable place for you to visit.

Having received a grant last fall, from the Alberta Foundation for the Literary Arts, in the amount of $500, the Library ordered books useful to the coming writer.

The first shipment of books has arrived. They include: How to Increase your Word Power, from Reader's Digest; The Writer's Digest Guide to Manuscript Format; Beginning Writer's Answer Book, by Kirk Polking; Writing to Inspire - A Guide to Writing and Publishing for Expanding Religious Markets; The 29 Most Common Writing Mistakes and How to Avoid Them; A Writer's Guide to Research, by Lois Horowitz; A Beginner's Guide to Getting Published, by Kirk Polking; Writing Young Adult Novels, by Hadley Irwin and Jeanette Eyerly; Dare to Be a Great Writer, 329 Keys to Powerful Fiction, by Leonard Bishop; Handbook of Short Story Writing, Volumes I and II - and many more.

Dozens of good books on the writing life and how to succeed at it! Yours to browse through, to borrow, to study - all right here in Elk Point. And there will be further shipments, more information. Other books include Drama, Poetry, Scriptwriting, anything to benefit the literary arts in Alberta.

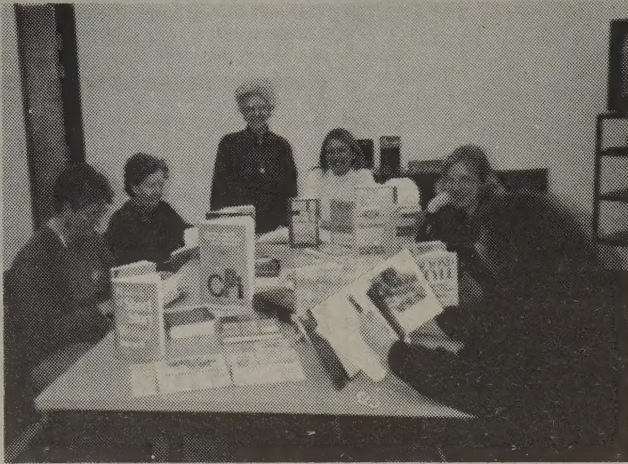

The Alberta Foundation for the Literary Arts was established by the Alberta Government in 1984, and receives funding from the Western Canada Lottery Foundation (Alberta Division) up to a maximum of $1 million. From this source grants are available to individual writers, publishers and libraries, and other literary institutions.

This wonderful influx of professional information and help to writers in the Elk Point area is of vast interest to the recently formed 'Elk Point Writers Group', an informal group of persons interested in writing in several of its diverse forms, who have been meeting since the new year at the Library.

This group were encouraged to meet by the presence through the winter of Ruth Andrishak, author and script-writer, in our midst, and the enthusiasm and encouragement of Shiela Thompson and Billie Milholland, both of whom have an interest in writing.

The group were so overwhelmed by the sea of literature on their subject of interest, they spent one whole meeting engrossed in titles and examination of the treasure trove of informative books - so had to call another meeting to carry out the previously planned objectives of the first meeting, namely, to hear each other's works read, and the comments on them.

The next meeting will be April 5th, at the Library, hour as yet undecided. Budding - or established - authors welcomed.

WRITERS READ HOW — to perfect their art in the recently arrived books on the art of writing at Elk Point Public Library.

Bonnyville teams win Micro-novice tournament

By Irene Magnusson

The final round-up of the Elk Point Micro-Novice Hockey Tournament was held in the Arena, March 4th. Sponsored by Spruce View Farms and PanCanadian Petroleum, who donated the winners' trophies, with further assistance from B. & R. Eckels Transport, CBM Confectionery, Video Point and E-Can Oilfield Services, the finalists in the B side games were Elk Point and Bonnyville, who played to a 10-10 draw, then went into overtime, with Bonnyville getting the winning score over Elk Point at about 3 minutes into overtime, final score: 11 to 10 for Bonnyville.

The final game commenced at about 5:00 p.m., with Bonnyville (another team) facing off against Glendon. Again Bonnyville was victorious, with a score of 9 to 5, over Glendon, in the A-side event.

The boys, ages 4 to 8, seemed to enjoy the game immensely, as did a number of highly vocal fans. That the relatively mild day brought people out was evidenced by the congested parking lot, and the very busy lunch counter.

'A' SIDE WINNERS—at the Micro Novice Tournament were the members of this Bonnyville team, who defeated Glendon (below) in the final game.

'B' SIDE WINNERS—were another Bonnyville team, who went into over-time to defeat Elk Point (below) in the hard-fought final.

Fashion and Fun

Ladies night out

The Elk Point Lioness Club's 4th Annual Ladies Night Out attracted an excellent crowd Saturday night, all of whom enjoyed an evening of fine dining, the latest spring fashions, and draws for over fifty exciting prizes.

Styles from Stedmans, Work Wearhouse, Leigh Morgan Fashions, Wolanuk's Fashions and Foods, Tops'n'Trends and The Beauty Centre in Elk Point, Joeline's and Paula Christy's Bridal Fashions in St. Paul, and Twice as Nice in Vermilion were displayed by twenty local models: Diane and Joanne Wolanuk, Elizabeth Didow, Sheila Martin, Brenda and Kyla Cameron, Angie Miller, Shaina Lee, Grace Barwick, Marie Buck, Jayme Pelech, Adele Mandryk, Megan and Mike O'Neill, Janice Van Maarion, Carol Lee, Lillian Demchuk, Sylvia Boothman, Fred Ridding and Mike Makowecki. Hair-styles were by Virginia's Hairport and Single Styles, with makeup by The Beauty Centre.

The Elks Hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with a pastel balloon arch and matching balloon trees from Woody's Gifts and Trophies, banners by Claire Ference, floral arrangements by Millie's Flowers and silk plants by Karon Hanson and Kathy Ockerman. Music was courtesy of Matt Higgins, Richard Schuhmacher and Bruce Kleeberger.

Master of Ceremonies was Bruce Kleeberger of the Elk Point Lions Club, while his fellow Lions spent the evening as attentive waiters.

Spring fashion trends include everything from 'feedsack' print pants to filmy formal wear, with knits again much in evidence. Coordinates are used to build wardrobes suitable for many occasions, and accessories, as always, give a unique finishing touch to each ensemble. Helpful demonstrations by Irene Miller, on behalf of Leigh Morgan Fashions' Myrna Reinhart, and by Daphne Schnurer of Tops'n'Trends gave insight into planning to look great this spring and summer.

Prize draws were held at intervals throughout the evening, with the grand prizes presented at the end of the fashion show. Heather Bjornstad was the delighted recipient of the .31 carat Diamond Ring, valued at $1260, presented compliments of the Lioness Club and with thanks to Starbrite Jewellery, St. Paul. Stella Linkewich of St. Paul won the second prize of a romantic Weekend For Two at the Hilton International Hotel in Edmonton, including accommodation, candle-light dinner and brunch, courtesy of the Lioness Club. Sherry Oszust was the winner of $100 cash, also from the Lioness Club, while Cheryl Kadutski won a $50 gift certificate from Joeline's.

The other prize winners are as follows: Sandra Holthe—VCR and 2 movie rental from Rick's Video; Gwen Morris—$25 gift certificate from Wolanuk's; Cathy Hawryluk—$50 worth of Avon from Melanie Theriault; Ann Berg—$20 gift certificate from Mary Kay and Marie Buck; Idella Mathews—John Oryschuk Trucking Gift Pack; Sylvia Conrad—Oil Change and Lube, Elk Point Esso; Donna Dahmer—Suntan sessions, The Beauty Centre; Joanne Hutton—Avon jewellery, Debbie Lavay; Sandra Veenstra—CBM Confectionery gift basket; Beth Miller—$10 gift certificate from Stedmans; Barb Anderson—Aloette cosmetics, Idella Mathews; Claire Ference—$25 gift certificate from Dave's Pizza; Margaret White—$25 Tupperware, Betty Ann Alexander; Virginia Miller—$10 gift certificate, Golden Loaf Bakery; Kay Sommerville—Silk plant from Karon Hanson and Kathy Ockerman; Sylvia Ballas—Chicken dinner for 2, Elk Point Burger Bar; Shiela Basset—Gift Certificate from Paula Christy's; Carolyn Makowecki—Work Wearhouse fleece jacket; June Stone—Co-op fruit basket; Sandra Cameron—picture from Imperial Lumber; Trish Mayner—quilt; Doris Wilson—Marble cheese server, Macleods; Sonia Yarmuch—Dinner for 2 at the Hilltop; June Kachmar—5th Avenue Jewellery, Helen Marcenik; Melanie Theriault—Aloette cosmetics, Idella Mathews; Rosemary Rohner—Regency Jewellery, Virginia's Hairport; Debbie Bury—FBM Distillers gift pack; Louise Krissa—Leigh Morgan color consultation, Myrna Reinhart; Mary Prusak—facial and manicure, Wanda Lynn's Body Shoppe; Lillian Demchuk—$10 gift certificate, Stedmans; Sylvia Boothman—steak dinner for 2 at the Empress; Joan Palamarek—giftware package, Phil's Hardware; Melanie Theriault—gift pack, Red Rooster; Gail Havener—$20 gift certificate from Just Joy's; Shaina Lee—VCR and 2 movie rental, Video Point; Darlene Kozicky—Aloette cosmetics, Idella Mathews; Verna Lazicki—$50 worth of Avon, Melanie Theriault; Eileen Tucker—Amway gift certificate, L & P Enterprises; Virginia Kinch and Debbie Gibb—E-Can Oilfield Service hats; Irene Miller—Avon products, Ellen Seward; Sherry Young—Tops'n'Trends fashion accessories; Marion Pilisko—1 dozen roses, Millie's Flowers; Lisa Kopeck—gift pack from Watson's; Marguerite Friesen—extra large pizza and 2 drinks, Dave's Pizza; Jane Brunner—balloon bouquet, Woody's Trophy and Gift; Debbie Joly—wallet, Capitol Drugs; Lena Stepa—dinner for 2, Wong's Cafe; Lynn Boyko—flower arrangement, Karen Swedgan; Daphne Schnurer—FBM Distillers gift pack; Jennifer Carson—$25 gift certificate, Hillside Texaco; Jenny Scott—wall clock, Carson Enterprises; Donna Serniak—$10 gift certificate, Golden Loaf Bakery; Donna Slywka—silver jewellery, Carolina Mayner; Lois Riemer—Mary K gift pack, Marie Buck; Karen Barwick—dinner for 2 at the Hilltop.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE—Joanne Wolanuk is radiant in a gorgeous scalloped-hem gown from Paula Christy's Bridal Fashions in St. Paul.

SUNSHINE GIRL—Angie Miller is set for summer in swimwear from The Beauty Centre.

GRAND PRIZE WINNER—Heather Bjornstad proudly displays the .31 carat diamond ring she won at the Lioness Ladies Night Out. Verona Lee Flanders made the presentation.

PRETTY IN PINK—and ready for the upcoming golf season, Grace Barwick wears sporty coordinates from Tops'n'Trends.

NOVICE III TO PROFICIENCY—The children in this group are Janice Derwynka, Heather Estey, Tracy Kubista, Shalene Slywka and (not pictured) Christopher Blacklock. They are involved in backward inside edges, different combinations of through-turns, through-jumps and crossovers in the figure 8 pattern, outside and inside edges. The Proficiency badge is the last step of the Can-Skate Program. After a child receives this they can move on to the CanFigure Skating Program of their choice. Come out and enjoy the annual Skating Carnival on Thursday, March 23 at 7:30 p.m..

Kids club '89!

By Idella Matthews

Just a few lines to let you know we are still alive and well. We've been doing a Drug Awareness program called "Sense and Non-Sense" from AADAC. First we identified what drugs are, then we identified helpful/harmful drugs and found that helpful can be harmful if misused. We looked at why people take drugs, addictions and the risks all drugs have. Also we looked at advertising and commercials and the influence they have on us. We played roles of situations the kids may be faced with their choices, the risks or consequences and the best decisions or alternative to the situation. We made a collage out of alcohol and cigarette advertisements and drew pictures to show the effects alcohol has on different parts of the body. The kids have all participated openly and have contributed a lot to this program. The next session we're doing is on communication. How important it is! If anyone wants to join us or come see the things we've done and are doing, please feel free. We still meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 3 p.m. - 5 p.m., at the Youth Drop In Centre.

The deadline for the upcoming Zone 7 Intersport Conference is March 17. The Conference will be held at the Wainwright Communiplex, Wainwright, Saturday, April 1 from 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
